

Japan through the lens of the Tokyo Olympics

edited by B. Holthus, I. Gagné, W. Manzenreiter, F. Waldenberger

Coming out January 1, 2020

For updates and news, follow us on Twitter
Japan Through the Lens of the Tokyo Olympics
@dij_Tokyo2020

Table of Contents

- The build-up to Tokyo 2020: Construction and reinvention of Japan
- Tokyo's 'Phantom Olympics' 1940 in today's public memory
- Number Games: The economics of Tokyo 2020
- Olympic politics in Japan
- The difference between zero and one: Voices from the Tokyo anti-Olympic movements
- What the construction of the Olympic Stadium reveals about Japan's daunting work-styles
- Tokyo 2020 and neighborhood transformation
- Upgrading Tokyo's linguistic infrastructure for the 2020 Games
- Enabling sports and empowering disability: The Paralympic Games
- Volunteering Japan-style: "Field cast" for the Tokyo Olympics
- Security concepts for the Tokyo Olympics
- San'ya 2020: From building to hosting the Tokyo Olympics
- The 2020 Olympics from the sidelines: A view from outside Tokyo
- Rural municipalities as host cities for outdoor sports at the Olympics
- Games of Romance? Tokyo in search of love and unity in diversity
- Sexuality and the Olympics: Tokyo's planning efforts
- Olympic education: How the 2020 Tokyo Olympic Games are shaping sports practices in Japan
- Olympic leverages: Contending food standards and the struggle for a "sustainable legacy"
- and much more

palgrave pivot

Open access book

Deutsches Institut für Japanstudien
German Institute for Japanese Studies Tokyo (DIJ) ドイツ日本研究所